

BookUp

Description

BookUp is a website where users can list their homes and search for vacation houses to rent. It will have search by location functionality as well as possibility to categorize houses by daily rent price and size. The users will be required to input the location, check in date, check out date, and number of guests/people that will be. When creating new listings, users will be required to upload at least one image of the place as well as give contact information such as phone and daily price for renting.

Features

- Create an account
 - Sing-in and sign-out
- Create a new listing
 - Add images and description
 - Add location and daily rent price
 - Select dates when the listed house is available.
 - Add specification (for example: number of people, bed size, etc)
 - Add contact information, such as phone number
 - Delete, edit the listing
- Search for listings
 - Show specifications, images, description
 - Search based on location and prices
 - Categorize by specifications
 - Click to view more detailed information about listing
 - Select check in and check out date

Concept

